Physical/health concerns that may limit participation (use back of form if necessary):

Waiver of Liability

Zen retreats may be physically, mentally, and emotionally demanding and it is understood that participation in such a retreat involves some risk of discomfort or even injury. Participation in the various activities of a Kwan Um Zen retreat is voluntary. Should you have any concerns about your ability to participate in a retreat, please contact and discuss these with Kevin Smith prior to the retreat and with the Head Dharma Teacher at the retreat. We ask you to sign below, acknowledging that you are aware of the voluntary nature of all activities at a Kwan Um Zen retreat, and that you accept these conditions as discussed below.

I, the undersigned, understand that the activities I may undertake at a this retreat may be physically, mentally and emotionally demanding, and involve some risk of discomfort or injury. I agree to discuss any concerns or existing medical conditions I may have with the supervisory staff leading the retreat, and I acknowledge that participation in all retreat activities is voluntary.

I agree that I will not participate in any activity for which I have reason to believe that I am ill suited, physically incapable, or which creates for me personally a risk of harm. I assume all risks and hereby release Kwan Um School of Zen and its affiliate groups, including but not limited to the Ten Directions Zen Community and the Theosophical Society, and their members, from any liability resulting from my participation in this retreat.
